Hello Fellow PKAC Members,

We had another successful show with over five hundred visitors. It was a delight to have Mayor Woodward as well as other dignitaries from surrounding communities come down to see what the PKAC had to offer.

They were all very impressed with the spacious layout of the easels and card tables as they entered the building. Besides cards being sold, there were many compliments on the paintings. Quite a few sold off the easels. Throughout the day, PKAC participants would change their volunteer positions to go to another area.

To keep energized throughout the day, Glenda McDonald had the kitchen open and the coffee and tea pots ready and continually brewing. There were also delicious goodies brought by PKAC members, which were quickly devoured.

Many thanks to our PKAC Coordinator, Gail Aitchison and the PKAC Show Assistants, Anne White, Koreen Dyke, and Rosemary Genberg. As well as the PKAC members that participated in the Show. As a team, they all had a hand in making this event successful. To hear more about the show, come to the PKAC meeting May 26, 2025. Gail will be very excited to fill you in on who won the People's Choice Award as well as other topics about the show.
